

I am greatly disturbed by the news you people are planning to cut off satellite access to traffic and weather channels. I cannot drive 30 miles without losing any signal I'm getting, and have to spend a whole lot of attention which would be better spent on driving to finding something that might...only might, not will....provide me with needed traffic and weather information.

If you idiots are going to put the interests of the bigtime media and their profits above my life, I guarantee you I will turn every vote I can possibly find against you and against those who appointed you or elected you to office.

You have me furious. I do not like being furious.

I don't like people telling me what I can hear or see, especially when I pay for it.

Now you're going to tell me I can't even PAY for it???????

Have you people gone completely off your nuts? Or have you simply sold yourselves to the big bucks folks.... I didn't think you could bend that far over in public.
